MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF OF POLICE

2

2022 saw life returning to relative normalcy, with the effects of the pandemic and associated restrictions being lessened. In turn, our officers were able to engage the community in person with the objective of furthering our open lines of communication, demonstrating police transparency, establishing trust and allowing the members to get to know the public they serve and protect in our wonderful community. As part of our community engagement initiatives, the department conducted numerous events including, but not limited to the following.

- National Night Out
- Our first ever Bicycle Rodeo
- Town-wide Santa Parade
- School Safety Drills
- Chief-for-the-Day Event
- Home Security Surveys
- Classroom Presentations for High School students (topics including Criminal Investigations, Forensic Science, Driver's Education, Social Responsibility)
- Engaging sports leadership at the high school
- Child Safety Seat Installation Events

One of many accomplishments that I am proud to report is that our National Night Out event had a record number of attendees this year. After becoming an accredited law enforcement agency through the New Jersey State Association of Chiefs of Police in 2021, the department continues the ongoing process by continually analyzing and updating, as necessary, our policies and practices to ensure that they remain current with presiding legislation and best practices in the field of law enforcement. We will continue this venture and will be evaluated for re-accreditation in 2024. As we look to 2023, our department will continue to enhance traffic safety through education, enforcement and engineering. We will also be implementing a new initiative called the Take Me Home Program, which is aimed at helping our most at-risk residents. As part of the Take Me Home program, residents can voluntarily register their loved ones with the Glen Ridge Police Department, which will help officers locate their loved one in the event they go missing or come into contact with law enforcement.

I would like to thank the Mayor and Council, the Administration of the Borough, and our residents for their continued support of our department and its outstanding members.

Sean P. Quinn, M.S.F.S.
Chief of Police
